Four Wheeler Stolen

Four Thefts In the Last Two Months in Owsley County

Somewhere between the hours of 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, June 10, 2014 and 12:00 p.m. on Wednesday a 2005 Bombardier 4-wheeler was stolen from the home of Teresa Lee.

According to the Owsley County Sheriff's Office, the thieves got it off the property by putting the four-wheeler into neutral and pushing it up the hill. For the past several months, thefts have occurred during the early hours of the morning.

This is the fourth occurrence in Owsley County. This is an on going investigation by the Owsley County Sheriff's Department. If you have any information, or you have seen the above four-wheeler, contact the Owsley County Sheriff at 593-5161.

Partnership Housing Completes 15th Energy Efficient Home

As many of you know June is National Homeownership Month. Partnership Housing's mission is to increase the amount of safe, affordable and decent housing available to low to moderate income residents in our area and to help those residents achieve better lives. Access to quality, safe housing is necessary for a high quality of life. Until Partnership Housing was formed no organization provided this service in Owsley County. This is the reason why over the past few years our entire board: Chairman Cale Turner, Sheila Thomas, Sheila Sanders, Bob Mayes, Molly Turner, Jim Campbell, and Charnell Burton Cornett and staff Executive Director Cassie Hudson and AmeriCorp Member Rachael Young Marshall have all worked so hard to make affordable and safe housing available in our rural area.

At this same time last year during an open house event, Executive Director Cassie Hudson predicted that in June 2014 that Partnership Housing would have completed the 15th home. This goal has been accomplished. The house pictured above is Partnership Housing's 15th new energy efficient home. Not only have new energy efficient homes been built but also many major rehabilitation projects, 27 in the past year, have been done. Partnership Housing has not only provided safe and affordable homes in Owsley County, but the increased the property tax base, the increased employment and the improved housing stock has been a benefit for all Owsley Countains. The grant funding (over $1,000,000) that Partnership Housing has brought into Owsley County since June 2013 has contributed much to the local economy. All this is a real reason to celebrate for all Owsley County. Partnership Housing could not have accomplished this without the assistance of our funders: Farmers State Bank, the City of Booneville, Booneville Discount Drugs, Federal Home Loan Bank of Cincinnati, Kentucky Housing Corporation, Beattyville Housing, USDA Rural Development, Owsley County Fiscal Court, Booneville Shopwise, Lee County Building Supply, Congleton Brothers, Jackson Energy, Peoples Rural Telephone Cooperative, Shouse Construction, Homeless and Housing Coalition of Kentucky, Federation of Appalachian Housing Enterprises, Ball Builders and the Owsley County Action Team.

Complete survey and win and iPad

Berea College Promise Neighborhood has been working to improve education from cradle to career in Owsley County since 2012. The Neighborhood is now asking for your help in achieving its goal. REACH, a Promise Neighborhood research and evaluation partner, is mailing paper surveys to a random selection of families in Owsley County this month. The survey is easy to complete and will help Promise Neighborhood with its work.

The survey will include one dollar as a thank you for completing it. Survey respondents will also be entered into a drawing to win an iPad. One winner will be drawn from Owsley County.

Berea Promise Neighborhood's work is paid for by Federal Promise Neighborhood funds. Berea College has been awarded a five year Promise Neighborhood Implementation grant from the U.S. Department of Education (2012- 2016) totaling $59,932,934, 50% ($29,966,467) Federal funds and 50% ($29,966,467) non-Federal funds. THE AMERICAN POLITICAL CLIMATE

With Eric Cantor loosing the Republican primary this week, all the pundits have been guessing at what is going on. Are the Republicans too far divided? Is the nation as a whole moving to the right? Is this good or bad news for the Democrats? All these questions and hundreds more are being asked and answered by all the experts. I can give you an answer to all the questions with three simple words, "I don't know."

Many Christians are conservatives and many conservatives are Christians. Conservatives are concerned with the direction the nation is moving. Social policies are more liberal, the debt spiral continues out of control, the dumbing down of the educational system, the growing entitlement and government reliance attitude of many Americans, the list of things that make many in America believe that the greatness that is known as "American" will soon be a thing of the past is growing by the day.

As I said, I don't know if the Republicans are too divided or if the Cantor defeat is good or bad news for the Democrats but there are some things I do know. I do know what the Bible says about the future.

The problem most of us have with Bible prophecy is that it is not specific enough for us. It gives no dates, it names no names. We want to know who, what, when and where; at best the Bible gives us what and where and sometimes it only tells us the what, omitting the where.What about America's political climate

by Tim
Johnson

today? Can the Bible give us any answers? Directly no, but with what we do know, we can make an educated guess.

We do know that in the future, the Antichrist will establish a one world economic system that gives him complete control over who buys and who sells (Revelation 13:16-17).

We also know that the Western Powers attempt to negotiate with Russia, Iran, Turkey and the rest of those allied against Israel, but do nothing to stop the invasion that is to come (Ezekiel 38:13).

We know that many people will look to the Antichrist as a god and will worship him (2 Thess. 2:3-4). These are only three of the things we know will happen in the future. But you may be wondering,

"What in the world do these things have to do with the political climate in America today?"

Good question. We must look not only at what the Bible says will happen, but we also need to make an educated guess at what will get us there.

Taking these three examples into consideration, how do we get there?

If there is going to be a one world economic system controlled by the Antichrist, what must happen?An educated guess tells us there will be economic troubles like the world has never seen. Whether there is a one world currency is really irrelevant, what does matter is that the world gives control of all financial transactions over to the government of the Antichrist. It is difficult to believe this could ever happen with a thriving American economy and a strong dollar. It appears that a worldwide economic collapse, including the dollar, is coming.

With example number two, Israel is invaded with no help, other than negotiations, from the West. It appears that the words of the United States and her allies are nothing more the blowing wind to Israel's future invaders. Could it be that the military might of the US will no longer be a threat? It is unknown if this is because of a weakened military or political unwillingness.

Example number three, the Antichrist being worshiped by people all over the globe, all that needs to be said, is that a Christian nation would never do this. America's Christianity is either nonexistent or worthless by the time that prophecy if fulfilled.

What does all this mean? America cannot be the economic, military and spiritual power it once was, or that was envisioned by the founding fathers, when the Antichrist comes to world prominence.

What do Eric Cantor and David Brat have to do with all this? I still don't know, but I do know what the Bible says will happen and what the world situation must be in order for it to happen. The fundamental transformation of America and the rise of the Antichrist, whoever he may be, has already started.

—OUTDOOR TRUTHS—

GARY
MILLER

The mornings are still crisp and the days are not yet encircled with oppressive humidity. It really is a great time of year to do anything outside. While I am enjoying fishing, I also am already locating the places I will hang a tree stand in preparation for deer season. If I wait until the summer months I will only be able to endure short stints outside. There is a small window of opportunity available before I will have to pay the price of being in the bubble of the sweltering heat.

A few years ago I had the opportunity to go on a hog hunt in Arkansas. Even though it was during the early summer, there was an unusual cold spell that made it somewhat bearable. Instead of 2 million mosquitoes, there were only a million. I had my Thermocell (battery powered mosquito repellant) strapped onto a chair between me and my guide. These devices are supposed to create a sort of force field that encompasses about a 15 feet diameter area. Since there were so many mosquitoes it seems they were willing to push the limits of that distance. While the repellant worked, it seems that I would only have to extend my arm to get outside the field of protection. So I huddled up and stayed within the confines of safety.

When I think about either of these examples, I am reminded of limits or parameters. Sometimes the comfort and safety within these are achieved by staying outside the boundaries and sometimes it is by staying inside the boundaries. And perhaps the only difference is perspective. Regardless of the perspective, not only must there be boundaries but there must be something that warns us when we are approaching those boundaries. It's sort of like those ridges on each side of the highway that let you know you have veered off the road. They startle you enough without causing harm, to cause you to make the necessary adjustments. The ridges are not the danger zone but only a warning that you are getting too close to it.

Many view the Scriptures as simply a way to keep you and me from having fun, when in fact it is just the opposite. God's word is not a killjoy but ridges on this highway we call life and if obeyed we save ourselves from mountains of hardship and heartache. God has designed this universe, our Earth, and mainly mankind to function a certain way in order to get the most out of it. That's why He gave us instructions. They are not for His good, but for ours.

This report is designed to inform the public about the quality of water and services provided on a daily basis. Our commitment is to provide our customers with a safe, clean, and reliable supply of drinking water. We want to assure that we will continue to monitor, improve, and protect the water system and deliver a high quality product. Water is the most indispensable product in every home and we ask everyone to be conservative and help us in our efforts to protect the water source and the water system.

Booneville Water treats surface water from the South Fork of the Kentucky River. An analysis of the susceptibility of the Booneville South Fork Kentucky River water supply to contamination indicates that susceptibility is generally moderate. However, there are a few areas of concern. Nonpoint source pollution such as agriculture, livestock, and logging are the most prominent sources of potential contamination. Several oil and gas wells are in the protection area as well. Bridges are another area of concern due to the potential for spills of hazardous materials. Fortunately, there are no bridges within 1/2 mile of the intake. A complete source water assessment can be viewed at Booneville City Hall during regular business hours. The Annual CCR is distributed via internet, newspapers or hand delivery every year.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife). Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, (naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming). Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses). Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems). Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities).

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some or all of these definitions may be found in this report:

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.

Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.

Parts per million (ppm) - or milligrams per liter, (mg/l). One part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) - or micrograms per liter, (µg/L). One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.

Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.

Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Spanish (Español) Este informe contiene información muy importante sobre la calidad de su agua beber. Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.

EPA has not established drinking water standards for unregulated contaminants. There are no MCL's and therefore no violations if found. Secondary contaminants do not have a direct impact on the health of consumers and are not required in the Consumer Confidence Report. They are being included to provide additional information about the quality of the water.

Sodium	optimum level =20 mg/L	9.97	9.97 to 9.97	Mar-13

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. During the compliance period for September, 2013 we did not complete all reporting for the Consumer Confidence Report and therefore cannot be sure of the quality of our drinking water during that time.

There is nothing you need to do at this time. You do not need to use an alternative (e.g., bottled) water supply.

The table below lists the contaminant(s) we did not properly test for during the last year, how often we are supposed to sample for [this contaminant/these contaminants] and how many samples we are supposed to take, how many samples we took, when samples should have been taken, and the date on which follow-up samples were (or will be) taken.

CCR	1 yr	NA	Sept. 2012	2013 CCR

What happened? Who is at risk? What is being done?

In 2012 Booneville Water received a CCR violation for failing to report a total coliform detect during a line break in September 2012. We retested and the result was negative. The CCR must contain Total Coliform detects even if there was no violation issued for the detections. The remedial measures required were to notify customers of this violation in this year's CCR. We have reviewed why this sample was not included in the CCR and have reorganized our record keeping in an effort to prevent this from happening again. There is no health issues associated with this violation.

Attorney General Conway Announces Four People Indicted On Prescription Drug Charges

Attorney General Jack Conway and his Department of Criminal Investigations today announced the indictments and arrests of four people on prescription drug charges. On June 4, a Floyd County grand jury indicted 44-year-old Yvonda Lazar, 23-year-old Kenneth Lazar, 30-year-old Derek Kennedy, and 26-year-old Andrea Kennedy on theft of a prescription blank for controlled substances, obtaining a controlled substance by fraud or deceit, and forgery of a prescription. All four individuals were arrested on June 12 by investigators from General Conway’s Department of Criminal Investigations, the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, Kentucky State Police, and the Prestonsburg Police Department.

This case began in 2010 after investigators received multiple complaints involving Commonwealth Quality Medical Management, which operated as a non-physician owned pain management clinic in Floyd County. Each of the individuals, with the exception of Derek Kennedy, worked at the clinic. According to the indictments, the four individuals forged and passed prescription blanks at various pharmacies. Commonwealth Quality Medical Management has since been shut down.

Each of the individuals was lodged in the Floyd County Detention Center. The investigation of this case is ongoing.

A charge is merely an accusation. A defendant is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.

Prescription Drug Diversion Efforts

Attorney General Conway launched Kentucky’s first and only statewide Prescription Drug Abuse Prevention Task Force in August of 2009. The task force has been involved in more than 450 prescription drug diversion investigations, including Operation Flamingo Road, the state’s largest prescription drug bust that resulted in the arrest of more than 500 people.

In 2010, General Conway launched the Keep Kentucky Kids Safe initiative with the Kentucky Justice Cabinet and its Office of Drug Control Policy, Kentucky Pharmacists Association, National Association of Drug Diversion Investigators (NADDI), Operation UNITE and concerned parents. Since its launch, Attorney General Conway and his partners have warned approximately 40,000 students, parents, and teachers about the dangers of prescription drug abuse.

General Conway also worked closely with Governor Beshear, House Speaker Stumbo, Senate President Stivers and other lawmakers to win passage of landmark legislation in 2012 to prevent the abuse and diversion of prescription pills in the Commonwealth. Since passage of HB 1, overdose deaths in Kentucky declined for the first time in a decade and more than half of the state’s pain management clinics have closed their doors.

In January 2014, General Conway announced that more than $32 million recovered in settlements with two pharmaceutical companies is being used throughout Kentucky to expand substance abuse treatment, including opiate addictions. The settlement funds will create a new treatment center for adults, treatment scholarships, a grant program for new juvenile treatment beds and/or centers, and expanded services for juveniles.

In addition to the work being done here in the Commonwealth, Attorney General Conway reached across party lines to work with Attorney General Pam Bondi in Florida to ensure that her state implemented an electronic prescription drug monitoring system similar to Kentucky’s KASPER system. Together they have worked to shut down the pill pipeline between Florida and Kentucky and to see that all 50 states have prescription drug monitoring programs in place and that all of the programs can share data across state lines.

4-H Summer Day Camp

On Friday, June 6th, 2014, the Owsley County Extension Service conducted a 4-H Summer Day Camp at the Owsley County Elementary School. Summer school students rotated to different stations throughout the morning. The students stopped by Natasha Lucas, Owsley CEA for Family & Consumer Sciences station, learned all about planting. Sunlight, water, soil, fertilizer and even the benefits of worms were discussed. Students got to plant popcorn kernels in their portable greenhouses. Once the plant starts to grow, students are encouraged to transplant their popcorn to a larger pot or to their garden. We had a great time playing in the soil. Crystal Osborne, Owsley CEA for 4-H Youth Development taught students all about bubbles. They learned that it takes air to make bubbles and that water has a special force called surface tension that can be broken by soap. Students made a homemade bubble mixture and their own bubble wands out of pipe cleaners. Sherry Becknell, EFNEP Assistant and Tracey Turner, SNAP-ed Assistant made ice cream in a bag and did some physical fitness activities with the students. After lunch the group came together for some Sally Down the Alley. All students had a great time doing dances that 4-H campers do at camp. Thanks so much to the summer school staff for inviting us to be a part of their day. Educational programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability, or national origin.

Save the Children Summer Boost Camp Fun Friday

By: Laura Thorpe

Shouldn't the halls of Owsley County Elementary be quiet this time of year? Not when you have Save the Children Summer Boost Camp going on! The joy and fun that is taking place on the inside can be heard from the outside before you ever enter the building. The sound of children laughing and playing in the gym is the first sounds of camp you will hear.

A normal day of the six week camp is focused on helping students grow their reading skills through reading stories, singing, educational computer software, tutoring and other activities. Friday, though, is a different kind of day. Fridays are known around camp as Fun Friday. It is a day where the children get to slow down and enjoy games, activities and crafts for the day.

Exploring camp on Friday, June 13, the children had plenty to keep them busy. Program Coordinator Phyllis Bowman had her class making beaded bracelets or necklaces. Another class was in the cafeteria making boats and palm trees out of fresh fruit, which they later devoured. Yet another class was playing board games, where there was a good game of Apples to Apples being played, and a Connect 4 champion had been crowned. One class was singing songs; one was running off some energy in the gym, while another was making wind chimes and toy cars. One thing common to every room was the smiling faces and the sounds of laughter coming from children and teachers alike, evidence of a good time being had by all.

Mrs. Bowman and her dedicated staff make the Summer Boost Camp a fun environment for children to continue to learn throughout the summer. The results of the program can be seen in children and adults of all ages throughout Owsley County. Watch next week for a story about a special visitor coming to camp.
